DEAR PARENTS,

Dear Parents, This week was another busy and exciting week at Academia Preschool! Our classrooms were buzzing with hands-on provocations, joyful routines, and confident little voices. Children explored new sounds, colors, numbers, and fine-motor skills through play-based learning, circle times, music and movement, and creative arts. Thank you for your continued support—it makes all the difference.

CLASS HIGHLIGHTS MS. VEE'S CLASS THIS WEEK:

Children had a blast revisiting the Jolly Phonics sound “s”, exploring the color orange, practicing the number 2, and working on letter “B/b” with pre-writing activities. Pencil grip was a big highlight—children used pencil grippers to help them hold pencils properly. Learning was fun, active, and engaging, with lots of creative provocations and fine-motor practice. In math (this week and last), learners strengthened the concept of bigger vs. smaller through sorting, comparing, and hands-on activities. Next Week: We’ll continue with the Jolly Phonics sequence, introduce the color yellow, the number 3, and the letter “C/c.” Expect more fine-motor work, playful writing practice, and math comparisons.

MS. DEE'S CLASS THIS WEEK:

Ms. Dee's Class This Week: A lively mix of puzzles, color games, sensory activities, painting, and dancing with musical instruments. These experiences support cognitive development (problem-solving, attention), language growth (naming colors and actions), social skills (turn-taking, cooperating), and both gross (balance, rhythm) and fine-motor skills (grasping, placing pieces, pre-writing strokes). Next Week: Continued recognition of the letter A and number 1 through playful provocations, more sensory exploration, and activities designed to build cognitive, gross-motor, and fine-motor skills.

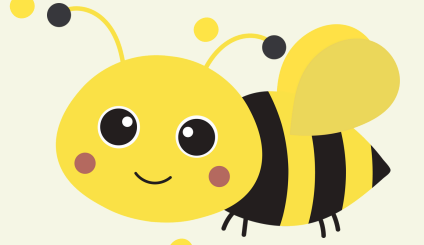

MS. FATIMA'S ARABIC CLASS THIS WEEK:

We learned the number ١ (one), the letter د (Daa), and the color أبيض (white). Children played counting games with one object at a time, created circular shapes (دائرة – daeera) to connect with the sound د, and decorated them. We also identified white objects around the classroom. Next Week: We'll continue to build on these concepts with new activities, crafts, and songs. Thank you for reinforcing these lessons at home!

SPECIAL DAY RECAP:

 International Honey Bee Day (Thursday, 11 September) Our little learners explored how bees make honey, why bees matter for plants (pollination), and tasted different kinds of honey with fresh fruits. It was a sweet, sensory learning experience—equal parts science and yum!
